DATA PREMIER LEAGUE 2026

TERMS & CONDITIONS

1. Introduction and Definitions

i. These Terms and Conditions ("Terms" or "Agreement") constitute a binding written legal agreement between you, i.e. the applicant/participant of the event on the Hackathon Site ("Participant" or "you"), and the Organiser. You agree to be bound by these Terms by applying to participate in the Event on the Hackathon Site.

ii. These Terms may be modified by the Organiser from time to time at the Organiser's sole discretion. Such modifications become effective upon posting by the Organiser on the DPL 2026 Discord Server (or other official communication channel) or by making them available to the Participant by any other means. It is the Participant's responsibility to periodically check these Terms for changes. Continued participation in the Event and/or continued use of the Hackathon Site by the Participant following the posting of changes implies that the Participant accepts and agrees to the changes.

iii. Hackathons are developer and/or analyst competitions intended to bring together developers and/or analysts from around the world. Employees and subcontractors of INSMA and Data Premier League are not allowed to participate or file a registration on the Hackathon Site, since their participation may result in unfair competition and a conflict of interest.
